

Oshkosh Corporation named by Foundry's CIO as a 2022 CIO 100 award winner for fourth consecutive year

Mar 22, 2022 9:54 AM

OSHKOSH, Wis.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Oshkosh Corporation (NYSE:OSK), a leading innovator of mission-critical vehicles and essential equipment, announced today that it has been named a recipient of Foundry's CIO 2022 CIO 100 Award. This is the fourth consecutive year that Oshkosh Corporation has received this award for information technology excellence.

Oshkosh Corporation is among 100 organizations honored globally with the annual CIO 100 Award. Organizations are measured on their ability to deliver business value whether by creating competitive advantage, optimizing business processes, enabling growth or improving relationships with customers.

Oshkosh Corporation's Digital Technology team is powered by team members around the world, all focused on helping our businesses innovate and overcome challenges.

"Digital technology plays a key role in Oshkosh Corporation's innovation and growth strategy," said John Pfeifer, Oshkosh Corporation President and Chief Operating Officer. "We are using advanced analytics to better predict outcomes and improve business decisions. We are also focusing digital manufacturing efforts to connect our people, equipment and processes with real-time data to enhance productivity."

"This achievement is a reflection of our Digital Technology team's commitment to providing our customers superior service and differentiated solutions," said Anupam Khare, Oshkosh Corporation Senior Vice President and Chief Information Officer. "We are honored to receive this award for the fourth consecutive year."

"This year's CIO 100 class demonstrates grit, innovation and deep teamwork. Many projects are related to streamlining data flows and insights to drive the business, bringing innovations like the metaverse to life, and driving value during the pandemic in myriad ways," said Anne McCrory, Group VP, Customer Experience & Operations, Foundry, formerly IDG Communications, Inc. "We are honored to showcase these achievements and the people behind them as we gather in person once again for a team-based experience at the CIO 100 Symposium & Awards in California in August."

In addition to being named a CIO 100 Awards winner, Oshkosh Corporation has also been recognized as a World's Most Ethical Company by Ethisphere, one of FORTUNE's World's Most Admired Companies, one of America's Most Responsible Companies by Newsweek and is listed on the Dow Jones Sustainability World Index.

Forward Looking Statements

This news release contains statements that the Company believes to be “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. All statements other than statements of historical fact, including, without limitation, statements regarding the Company's future financial position, business strategy, targets, projected sales, costs, earnings, capital expenditures, debt levels and cash flows, and plans and objectives of management for future operations, are forward-looking statements. When used in this news release, words such as “may,” “will,” “expect,” “intend,” “estimate,” “anticipate,” “believe,” “should,” “project” or “plan” or the negative thereof or variations thereon or similar terminology are generally intended to identify forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and are subject to risks, uncertainties, assumptions and other factors, some of which are beyond the Company's control, which could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. These factors include cybersecurity risks and costs of defending against, mitigating and responding to data security threats and breaches impacting the Company; the Company's ability to successfully identify, complete and integrate acquisitions and to realize the anticipated benefits associated with the same; and risks related to the Company's ability to successfully execute on its strategic road map and meet its long-term financial goals; and the negative impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on global economies and the Company's customers, suppliers and employees.
